LIVINGSTON COUNTY DIRECTORY

Of
National, State, County, Township,
City and Village Officials

Compiled by:

Margaret M. Dunleavy
Livingston County Clerk
Howell, Michigan

The Courthouse you see today is the second courthouse to occupy this site. The first building was a brick Greek Revival structure in 1847. This courthouse was torn down to make room for the present Courthouse, which was built in 1889. The Richardson Romanesque building was designed by Albert E. French, a Detroit architect. The site was deeded to Livingston County with the stipulation that it be used for county court purposes.

Located on Grand River Avenue in downtown Howell, the Courthouse stands stately and proud, with its clock tower visible for miles. Its main structural components are brick, Ohio blue stone and slate. These materials were selected for their durability.

William Kessler and Associates were commissioned in 1975 to update the Courthouse which is listed on the National Register of Historic Pages. The Victorian atmosphere is enhanced by the restoration of the oak woodwork, bronze hardware and marble floors. It is further complemented by the restoration and recreation of the original colors and decorative paintings. The preservation of the Courthouse offers the opportunity to save an important landmark for future generations to enjoy.

ORGANIZATION OF LIVINGSTON COUNTY

The territory, now Livingston County, was part of Shiawassee and Washtenaw Counties until March 21, 1833, when Governor George B. Porter approved an Act of Legislature to provide for the laying out of Livingston County.

The county received its name in honor of Edward Livingston, Secretary of State under President Jackson.

The actual organization of the county was effected under an Act of Legislature March 24th, 1836, and the county was composed of the townships of Green Oak (which included Brighton), Hamburg (which included Genoa), Putnam (which included Marion), Unadilla (which included Iosco), and Howell (which included the present Oceola, Deerfield, Cohoctah, Conway, Handy and Tyrone).

Under the provisions of the Act organizing Livingston County, a special election for county officers was held on the first Monday in May, 1836, resulting in the election of the first county officials as follows: Sheriff, Justus J. Bennett; County Clerk, F.J.B. Crane; Register of Deeds, Ely Barnard; Treasurer, Amos Adams; Judge of Probate, Kingsley S. Bingham (who became governor later); County Surveyor, Amos Adams; Coroners, John W. Peavey and John Drake; Associate Judges, Elisha W. Brockway and Elnathan Noble. The total number of votes cast at this election was 108.

ORGANIZATION AND FIRST PROCEEDING OF THE LIVINGSTON COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

The first meeting of the Board of Supervisors was held at the home of Amos Adams in Howell, on the 4th day of October, 1836. Supervisors present were Kingsley S. Bingham of Green Oak Township, Christopher L. Culver of Hamburg Township, John Hudson of Putnam Township, Philester Jessup of Howell Township, Eli Lee of Hartland Township.

Eli Lee was chosen moderator and Ely Barnard, clerk. The following day Elnathan Noble of Unadilla Township Arrived and took his seat and the Board proceeded to do the County business. The session continued until October 6th when the Board adjourned "Sine die". The first business at this session was the creation of a $3.00 bounty on wolves, which were rampant in this area at the time, and the apportionment of taxes in the several townships.

The first Probate Judge of Livingston County was Hon. Kingsley S. Bingham. No business was done in the Probate office during his incumbency. The first Probate Court in the county was held by his successor the Hon. James W. Stansbury of Pinckney Village on the 25th day of December, 1838, and the first business was the appointment of a guardian for the minor heirs of Henry Zulauf, deceased.

The first Circuit Court for Livingston County was held at the schoolhouse in the Village of Howell on the 8th day of November, 1837. Present were the Hon. William A. Fletcher, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, the Hon. Elisha W. Brockway, and Hon. Elnathan Noble, Associate Judges.

Judge Fletcher was, at one time, Attorney General for the territory. He was appointed Chief Justice of the Supreme Court after the admission of the State into the Union.

EARLY HISTORY OF LIVINGSTON COUNTY

The earliest settlements in Livingston County were made in the southern and southeastern parts of the county.

The first white person to settle within the present limits of Livingston County was Colonel Solomon Peterson, who settled on Portage Creek, in the township now known as Putnam, in the year 1829. He came from Detroit by way of Ann Arbor.

Next to Putnam, Green Oak was the earliest settled township. Its first settlers, Stephen Lee and Benjamin Curtis, came to make their homes here in the fall of 1830.

Hartland's first settler was Colonel Samuel Mapes from Niagara County, N.Y., in the years 1831 and 1832. Eli Lee also came to Hartland a year or two later.

Hamburg received its first settler in the person of Jesse Hall, who located there with his family in October 1831. The same year in November, there came Herman Lake, who settled in the southeast corner of the township.

Elijah Marsh and Job Cranston were the first settlers in Brighton Township in the fall of 1832. Gardner Bird settled there in February 1833.

Unadilla Township's first settler came in the person of Eli Ruggles in June of 1833. He did not remain permanently; after a time he returned to Connecticut. The next settlers were James Craig, Archibald Marshall and David Holmes who came to this township in the fall of 1833, all from Connecticut.

Cohoctah Township's first settler came in the person of Gilbert W. Prentiss, who built his shanty on or near the Shiawassee River. He did not come for the purpose of claiming land and settling, but only to establish a fur trading business with the Indians. Cohoctah received its first permanent settler in 1834 in the person of George Cornell.

Deerfield Township's first settler came in June 1834 in the person of John Howe, Sr.

Tyrone Township's first settler came in June of 1834. In 1835, six others came to Tyrone, namely; Isaac Cornell, Henry A. Cornell, Joseph M. Becker, William H. Berry, William Dawson, George Dibble, all who settled on the north line of Tyrone Township.

Marion Township's first settler came in the person of Sardis Davis who settled on the north line of the township in the year 1834. Deacon Israel Branch came in 1835.

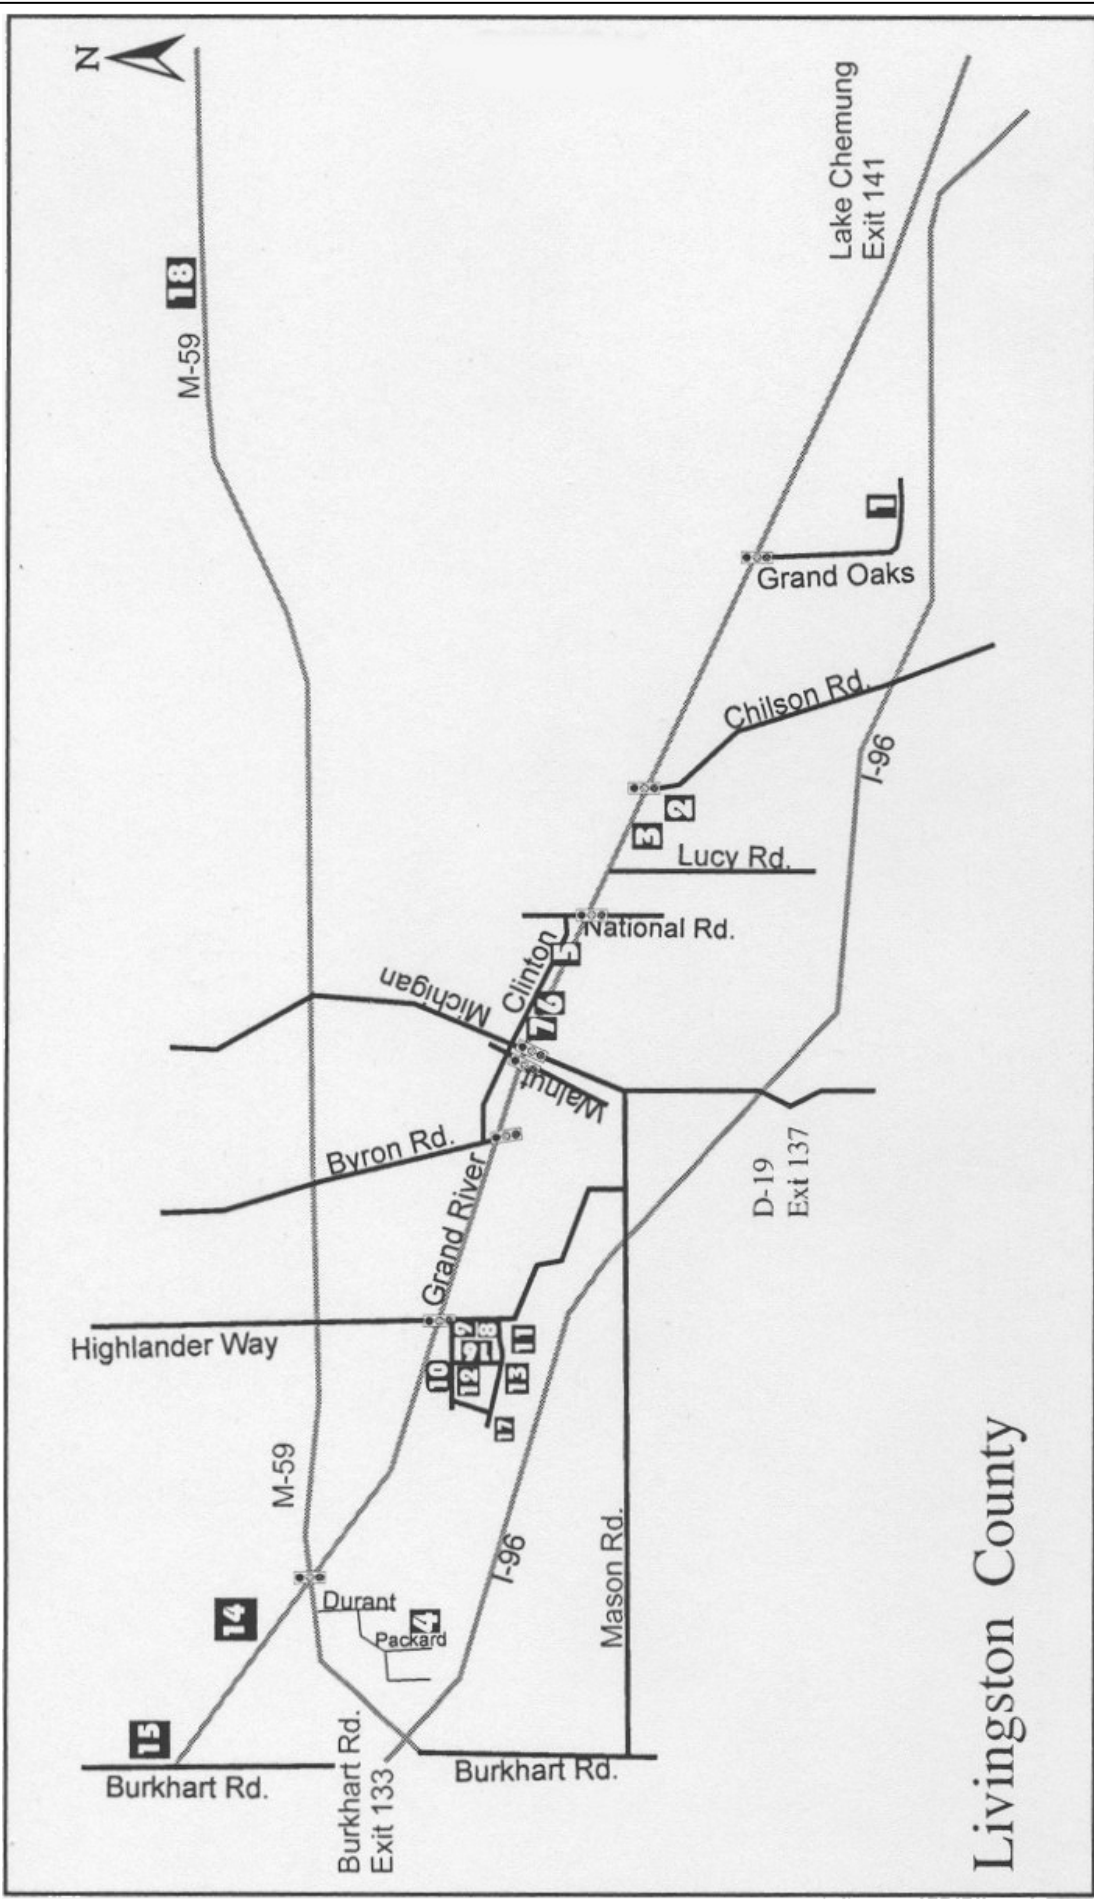

Howell Township's first settlers came in 1834 in the persons of James Sage, George S. Sage, David Austin and Jonathan Austin.

Oceola Township's first settlers were H. H. Graves, who came in 1834, and Harry Neff who came in the fall of the same year. In June 1835, Thomas V. Parshall settled there. Ephraim J. Hardy and family arrived in November 1835 and settled on land in Section 23.

Genoa Township's first settlers were Thomas Pinckney, Ely Barnard and Parson Barnard (the last two being bachelors).

Handy Township was settled in 1836 by George C. Wood, Richard C. Guggins and Asel Stow families.

Conway Township had as its first settlers Julius F. Parsons, Levi Parsons, Timothy Wait, Robert Corbon and the Strong and Fay families in 1837.
